Now here is an opportunity for visitors to the state fair to get a knowledge of the popular college sport or game so universally discussed at the present time, The order of playing will be as follows: Wednesday, September 5, the Ohio State University team of Columbus against the Buchtel College team of Akron Thursday, September 6, the Denison University team of Granville against the Miami University team of Oxford; Friday, September 7, the State University team of Columbus against the Wittenburg College team of Springfield, O. The games will attract widespread attention, as it is the first · series of the kind given in the state.

The board will continue the open air concert feature, for which the best musical talent of the state has been secured. It is only necessary to mention that among the bands secured as having a national reputation are the Seventy-fourth Regiment, the Pugh Vidette and the Big Six. These, with many bands of less note, will mak music a decided feature.

Low railway rates and cheap ex cursions will be the rule over all lines leading into Columbus or connecting therewith and ample provision will be etc. made for the accomodation of all visitors to the fair and the capital Book-Keeping city. Attractions and amusements will be the order throughout the entire week and everyone visiting the fair will find much to attract and some thing peculiar to his liking and a general season of recreation and enjoyment afforded by the exhibition, the special attractions, the high order of amusements and the beautiful park grounds upon which all is to take place the week of September 3-7, 1894.

Conder's work on the Tel Amarna tablets, comprising a translation of the text, with introduction and notes, says London Table. Inscribed on clay tablets, subsequent 'y baked into brick and written in Aramaic, the ancient language of Syria, in cuneiform characters, we have here nothing less than a series of dispatches sent to the Egyptian foreign office about 1480 B. C. from the protected or tributary kings of Canaan, imploring assistance against various invasions. The most interesting are the letters from the king of Jerusalem and other chiefs of southern Palestine, for in them we can trace the dismay and alarm created by the advance of Joshus and the Hebrews, called "Abiri," and "people of the desert." A very striking passage co-curs in one of the dispatches to the fugitive monarch, apparently after the battle of Ajalon, in which, seeking, as it were, to apologize for his defeat, he speaks of the leaders of the enemy as
